(Agility is a timed competition where handlers direct their dogs through a numbered course, going over and through various obstacles, such as A-Frames, jumps, tunnels, teeter totter, and dog walk. Just like the Olympics have able bodied athletes and the Paralympics have athletes with disabilities, the IMCA World Cup Championship is for able bodied handlers and their dogs and the PAWC, ParAgility World Cup Championship is open to disabled handlers and their dogs.) Sky won Bronze and Silver in Standard and 2 Gold Medals in Jumpers. He will have a chance to defend his World Champion Title in Jumpers this year, as he has again been invited to represent Canada in the 2015 ParAgility World Cup in Austria. But first and foremost, Sky is Sharon's service dog. What a team!

Since ASCA (Australian Shepherd Club of America) started offering Herding Trials in 1957, there have only been 5 Shelties, who have earned the WTCH title (Working Trial Champion). Sharon's Tyler and Sky are 2 of these 5 dogs.

Sky qualified for the Canadian Herding Championship in 2014 and finished in 5th place in both Ducks and Sheep

Sky had a 10th place finish in Gambles at AAC Agility Regionals and qualified for Nationals but Sharon and Sky couldn't go to the Nationals.

Sky qualified for the CPE Agility Nationals in the States and will go there in April 2015.
